

I tried to file a complaint about the receiving of unsolicited fax advertisements but the electronic filing was so involved and lengthy that finally gave up. The file by phone was worse. After listening for over 5 minutes to unrelated choices I never was given the choice I needed. This has discouraged me and I will just have to keep receiving those unwanted faxes. Great job, guys. Oh well, what else could I have expected from a government adgency?